Meeting the challenges of Agriculture and Forestry with Commissioner Bob Odom

The Louisiana National Guard is moving aerial firefighting equipment into Louisiana to assist in fighting forest fires when needed, according to Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom.

"Our forest fire situation is getting out of hand," Odom said. "We have had three house trailers, and several outbuildings and barns burn along Highway 190 in Allen Parish."

Odom has enlisted the help of the head of the Louisiana National Guard, Major Gen. Bennett C. Landreneau. "The general has agreed to provide helicopters and personnel to attack forest fires from the air."

The Allen Parish fires near Reeves burned more than 4,000 acres recently. One hundred and fifty persons were evacuated to the Reeves High School during efforts to contain the string of fires. Department investigators say the fires broke out along a continuous line and were most likely set by an arsonist.

The investigation into the cause of the fires is continuing.

In addition, department firefighters have fought an 800-acre fire in Catahoula Parish, a 200-acre fire in Natchitoches Parish and a similar size fire near Minden in Webster Parish.

Louisiana has seen 660 fires burn some 13,000 acres this August. The state average is 188 fires covering 1800 acres in August.

"The National Guard has helicopters based in Louisiana and is using one of its aircraft to ferry in six, 600-gallon buckets from Kentucky. The buckets will be filled with water, hung under the helicopters and used to dump water on fires in or near residential areas.

"What is particularly worrisome in the current situation in Allen Parish is the number of rural residences that are threatened," Odom said. "The availability of National Guard helicopter personnel will enable us to protect threatened residential areas and also will help augment our firefighting personnel resources."

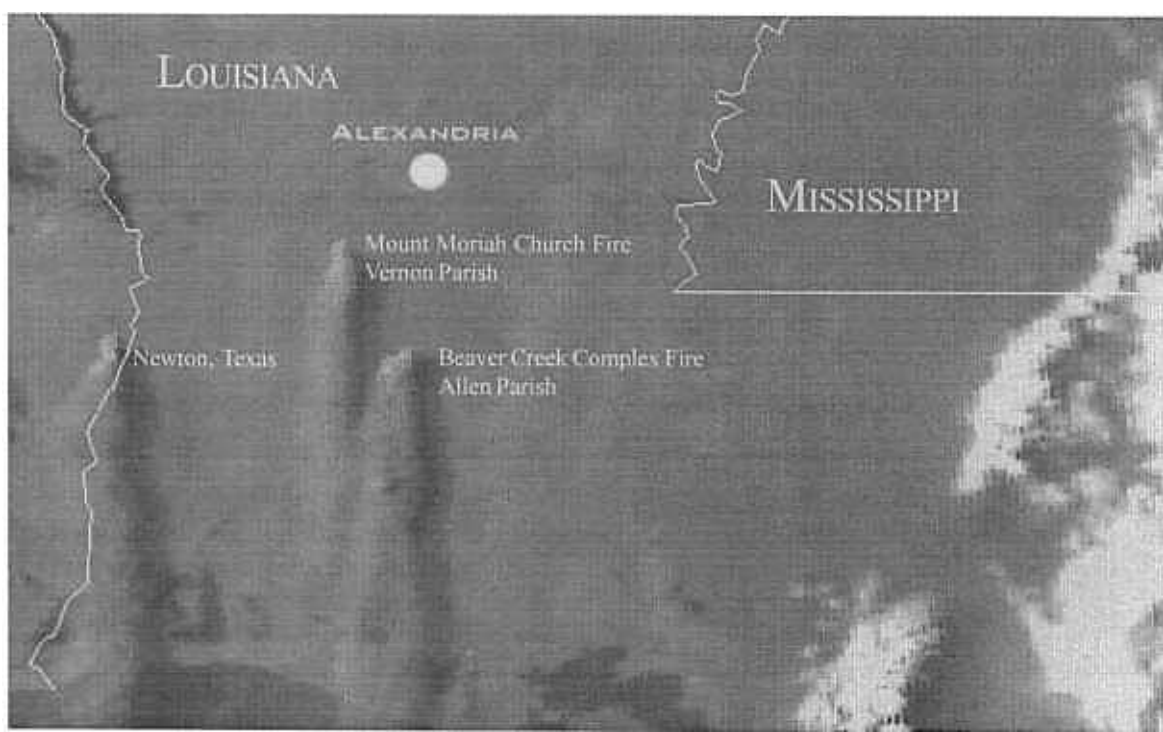

Odom was also advised by the supervisor of Kisatchie National Forest that the 6,000 acres of the Kisatchie Wilderness Area have been closed to all entry because of the critical drought conditions and the danger from campfires by unsupervised campers using the area.

Weathering the third consecutive year of record dry conditions, most of Louisiana has had less than half of normal rainfall this year and virtually no rainfall in the last 60 days. Normally Louisiana has humidity in the 70- to 80-percent range during August. This month the humidity has been in the teens and 20s.

"That's unheard of in Louisiana," Odom said. He pointed out that Louisiana is also experiencing fires started by dry lightning, lightning that occurs in storms with little or no rainfall. "This is also highly unusual," he said.

"These conditions have turned our forests into tinderboxes, just waiting for a careless cigarette butt, a spark from a passing rail car or outdoor trash burning to erupt into a forest fire.

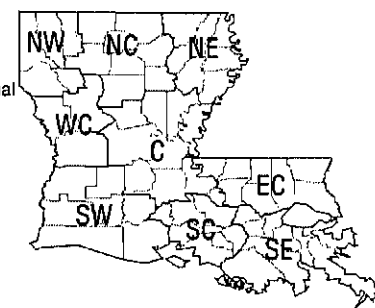

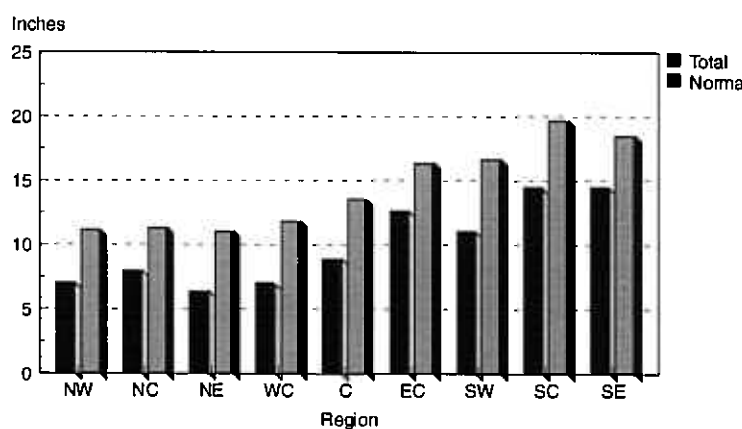

"Once the smallest fire gets started it spreads very rapidly in these conditions," Odom said.

DROUGHT REPORT

Record heat compounds problems linked to severe and extreme drought

by Jay Grimes, State Climatologist

The drought that has plagued many southern parishes for more than a year has now expanded northward to encompass the entire state as of summer's end. Although most northern parishes experienced a "normal-to-wet" winter and spring, with many parishes still reporting above-normal year-to-date rainfall, the persistent hot-and-dry summer weather has left all of Louisiana suffering from a lack of rain. Summer rainfall average only 60% to 80% of normal across the state, with August being the "driest"

August in more than 100 years for many northern parishes.

While northern Louisiana's drought has only become established over the last month, the situation is quite different for many southern parishes. For southeastern Louisiana from the Atchafalaya basin to the Pearl River, year-to-date rainfall is the lowest of record, with some sites reporting less than 50% of normal rainfall through early September. In fact, for some south Louisiana communities, drought has been the rule since mid-1998!

To make matters worse, the severity of the drought has been punctuated by the recent run of record heat and triple-digit temperatures. Dry conditions and moisture stress have combined to produce a record wildfire season for the state, with burned acreage already exceeding more than double the annual norm. As a result, Governor Foster recently declared a State of Emergency for 39 parishes.

The drought table featured at the top of this article will be printed monthly in the "Market Bulletin" while drought conditions continue.

Reward offered for information on arson fires in five parish area

A reward of up to $50,000 is being offered by timber interests for information leading to the arrest and conviction of arsonists responsible for setting fires in a five-parish area that burned more than 40,000 acres in the first seven days of September.

Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom said the reward is for information concerning fires in Allen, Beauregard, Evangeline, Rapides and Vernon parishes. Anyone with information should call the Allen Parish Sheriff's Office at 337-639-4353 or 1-800-824-4523.

"Our forestry investigators are assisting the Allen Parish Sheriff's Office in following leads that are acquired through the hotlines," Odom added. "It's very important that we apprehend the individuals who have destroyed people's homes and some of our state's most valuable timberland."

More than 50,000 acres of timber, valued at $50 million, have burned statewide in the first seven days of September. More than half of the fires and 80 percent of the acreage were in the five parishes offering the reward.

Allen Parish Sheriff Hal Turner said he believes the reward will encourage people to call and report any information they may have.

"We feel the information we receive during these investigations will lead us to the people responsible for the fires," Turner said. "If I were an arsonist in this area involved in setting these fires, I'd be very uncomfortable right now. The whole community is outraged over this and they will cooperate with our investigations."

Sponsors of the $50,000 reward are the Woods Arson Prevention Association, Louisiana Forestry Association, Crime Stoppers and Southwest Louisiana Forest Landowners.

With rains and high humidity reported in much of the fire-stricken portion of the state, Odom said there has been a break in new fire activity.

"All of the fires are contained and we're seeing a drastic decrease in the amount of new fire activity. This will definitely give our men a chance to get caught up on some much-needed rest," Odom said. "This is the perfect opportunity for us to catch the people who are setting these fires so that when things get dry again, they won't be out there to set more fires."

National Guard troops who were helping with fire suppression efforts have been released, but will remain available if fires become active again.

"The Guard is standing down, but they will be available if we have a repeat of what occurred earlier this week," Odom noted. "This little bit of moisture we're having is a great relief, but we're still in a serious situation. In some areas of the state, if the sun came out right now, we'd have fires breaking out minutes later. It's that bad out there."
